CONGO BREAKS HIS TUSKS

Pigmy Elephant in New York Zoological Park Has a Most Unfortunate Accident.

In some unknown manner Congo, the pigmy elephant in the New York Zoological park, lost eight inches of his tusks recently. The pieces were found in his enclosure by one of the keepers when he went to feed Congo, and it was seen that the tusks had been cracked for some distance. The authorities are at a loss to know how the accident, but think Congo got his tusks in between the bars of his cage and gave a sudden wrench and snapped them off. "It was a most unfortunate accident," said the curator, "because, although only six and half feet high, Congo had tusks nearly sixteen inches long. He is the only pigmy elephant in captivity, and many persons would not believe he was a pigmy pachyderm until he had grown such big tusks. We have wound tape around the ends of the tusks until brass knobs can be placed on them to prevent further splitting. It must have taken a great strength to snap the ivory tusks.

COW IN DEPARTMENT STORE

Bossy Ascends Two Flights of Stairs and Creates a Panic Among the Women.

A sensation was created a few days ago in Norwich, N. D., when a fine Holstein cow being driven through the village bolted the herd at the corner of Main and Broad streets and entered a large department store. Disdaining to stop on the first floor, the animal ascended the stairs, poked her head into the law office of the state tax commissioner, bellowed plaintively, and proceeded on up the next flight of stairs and into the cloak department of the store. The women clerks were in hysterics, and the proprietors of the store were at their wits' end. Efforts were made to get the cow into the elevator and escort her to the ground floor, but she wanted to go still higher, and made for the stairs leading to the floor above. The owner of the cow arrived opportunely, and with a rope about the animal's neck and an assistant bringing up the rear she was safely escorted to the street.

GAVE BATTLE TO POLICE.

The Vienna (Austria) police were held at bay for over two hours the other day, by robbers in a drinking saloon in a densely populated quarter of the city. The presence of the thieves, who were robbing the till, was noticed at two o'clock in the morning by the police, who surrounded the house and called on the thieves to come out. They replied with revolver shots, and the police returned their fire, shooting into the shop, which was in darkness. The inhabitants of the quarter watched the battle, which lasted until five o'clock, when the breaking of daylight enabled the police to rush the saloon. The populace assisted the police, attacking the thieves with sticks. One member of the band, terrified by the crowd, hid behind a barrel and shot himself dead.

THE WEDDING RING.

Why should the wedding ring be placed on the third finger of the left hand? The custom has existed for ages and the reason therefor has been given as follows:

Our ancestors found the left hand more convenient for such ornaments than the right, for the reason that it is generally less employed than the latter. For the same reason they chose the third instead of another finger. The third digit is not only less used than the others, but is better adapted to guard a ring against bruises, since that finger has this quality peculiar to itself—it cannot be extended but in company with some other finger, whereas the rest may be singly stretched to their full length.—Harper's Weekly.

EXTREMES.

"You told me not to hide my light under a bushel," said the energetic candidate.

"Yes," replied the sage adviser. "But I didn't tell you to go to the other extreme and imitate the cow that kicked over the lamp and started the Chicago fire."

NEW USE FOR THE BEEHIVE

Ingenious Farmer Finds That Its Temperature Makes It a Very Fine Incubator.

Although not many people own an incubator, it is rare for a person living in the country not to have facilities for the swarming of bees and the making of honey. A successful agriculturist has shown by recent experiments that a beehive may serve the purpose of an incubator. He alighted upon this discovery by observing that the proper temperature of incubators is exactly equal to that which the queen bee maintains in the interior of the hive. Why not give the bees a chance to do two things at once—hatch eggs and also pursue their ordinary vocation? In order to do this he arranged a species of quadrangular cage, or box, over the bottom of which he deposited a cloth. This he put over the hive in the manner of a roof arranged just over the chamber where the bees were busiest. Then he put two dozen eggs over the cloth, protecting them from contact with the air by flannel wrappings, and let matters take their course. After the normal incubator time for hatching had elapsed he found that he had hatched eighteen chickens from twenty-four eggs. The experiment was repeated with equal success, and then he arranged each beehive with a cage. He finds that, on the average, he succeeds better with a hundred eggs hatched in this manner with the connivance of a dozen hens.

PERPETUAL MOTION.

As the term is generally understood, perpetual motion is the motion of an engine which, without any support or power from without, can not only maintain its own motion forever, but can also be applied to drive machinery, and therefore do external work. In other words, it means a device for creating power or energy without corresponding expenditure. This is absolutely impossible, no matter what physical forces be employed. The quantity of force in existence being fixed, no new stock can be created, and therefore a self-moving machine is out of the question. The modern physical axiom, the conservation of energy, founded on experimental bases as certain as those which convince us of the truth of the laws of motion, may be expressed in the negative thus: Perpetual motion is impossible.

BABY'S WEIGHT.

Children vary greatly in weight at birth. The average weight is seven pounds, but often a newly born baby proves to be nine or even ten pounds. During the first week little or no increase in weight occurs. There is a loss during the first three days and a gain for the next few days, so that at the end of the week the child weighs about the same as it did at birth.

Indigestion will have a serious effect on a baby's development, and if the weight decreases after the first week a doctor should be called.

NATURAL QUERY.

The late Gen. F. D. Grant, when discussing military neatness, used often to tell a story about his father.

"My father was talking to General Sherman in his tent one day," he would begin, "when a third general entered, a brigadier notorious for his slovenliness. After the brigadier left, my father blew forth a cloud of smoke and said:

"Sherman, I wonder whom that man gets to wear his shirts the first week?"

Montgomery County Court, August Term, August 19th, 1912. Pres. Hon. G. A. McCormick.

On August 19th, 1912, J. S. Scobee and more than 20 other citizens and legal voters of the Howard's Mill voting precinct of this county, filed in the County Court of Montgomery county a petition asking the submission of the question whether cattle or any species thereof shall be permitted to run at large in said voting precinct, and the court being advised, it is now ordered that the officers of election in said Howard's Mill voting precinct open a poll at the next regular election held in said precinct for the purpose of ascertaining the will of the voters in said precinct upon the question:

"Are you in favor of making it unlawful for cattle or any species thereof to run at large on the public highways and uninclosed lands of Howard's Mill precinct?"

To Consumers of Natural Gas.

In answer to many inquiries, the management of this company is pleased to state that the plans which were made public last fall, for extending its main lines across the mountains of Kentucky to the West Virginia gas fields, have been put into execution; the work of constructing the line has been vigorously prosecuted—although from the nature of the country it has been a difficult and costly undertaking—and we are absolutely sure of its completion in ample time to furnish all consumers with a full supply. We deem it proper and fair to give our consumers this information so that they may know how definitely our company is faithfully performing its promise to use every effort to furnish them with a full and dependable supply of natural gas for many years to come; and also to notify them that after the regular reading of meters in the month of December, 1912, the rates will be advanced five (5) cents per thousand cubic feet.
